

Editors Report 2015

Since my first issue in March last year, and the change over from cut and paste to desk top publishing, the design and layout has settled down, and I hope readers have become accustomed to the new cleaner look Speaks. The design of the internal pages will continue to evolve as time goes by, and as copy quantity increases, (and I hope quality as well), so for example the August issue will drop the use of line spaces between paragraphs, so as to squeeze in more copy.

The one thing that still bothers me is the cover, the shape of which precludes the use of many excellent photographs. By which I mean that the short and stocky photographs fit OK, but not the tall thin ones. Or if you like a shot of Andrew Housden would be fine, but Brian Lever would lose his head in the printer's guillotine!!!

So be prepared (IF I LIVE LONG ENOUGH AFTER THIS AGM) for a new look cover in the September issue, and let me know what you think by writing to the Editor in the usual way.

I would like to remind those present that mailing and distribution are controlled by Kevin Richards, our very able Treasurer and Membership Secretary, so if your copy of Speaks fails to arrive he should be your first port of call.

I look forward to many more issues of Speaks, and hope to continue expanding the number of people writing and contributing. However, if you know of any likely modeller who could be a writer, let me know and I will approach them. The more writers we have the merrier you readers will be, or at least that is aim.

Thank you.
