Hello vintage fans, my name is Derick Scott, I am originally from Lancaster and now living in Morecambe. I am 56 and have been involved with models of all types since I was 8 years old and especially love control line flying. I have designed and built lots of models over the years and even had a few published but I never pushed that side of things, I prefer being one of the back-room boys that just get on with it.

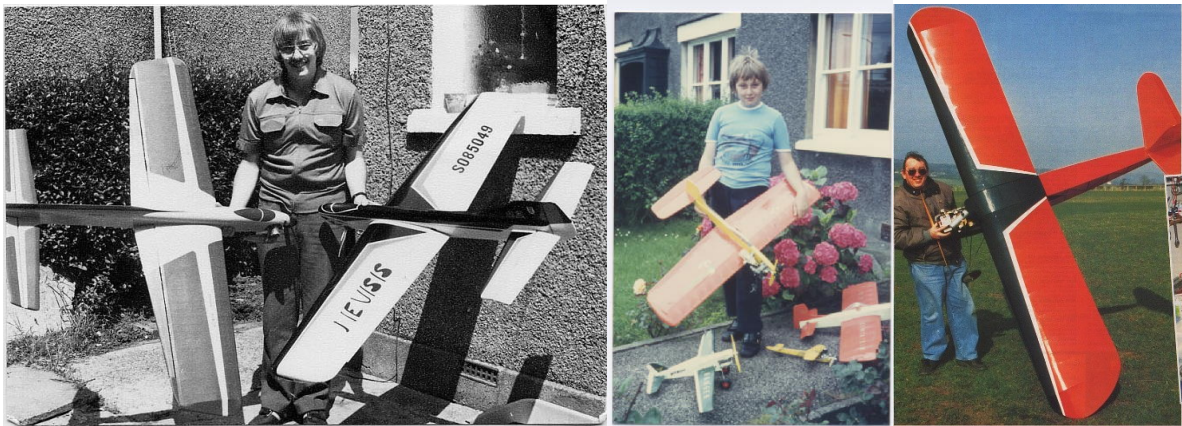

I worked in the model trade alongside Roy Lever for around 15 years, what a great character he was! I designed and built many models for customers and club members.

I was an instructor for control line and radio control at Kendal for some years and only gave up flying 10 years ago when my father became ill and I became a full-time carer. It was then I concentrated on my plans collection and went from going to print shops to get them copied to having my own photocopier. I now run two 44" wide photo quality printers and a 42" photo quality scanner. I can print plans plus photos on gloss or canvas.

I love to collect and restore old plans of any model type and am very happy to swap plans.

I work with SAM1066 helping them to scan their U.K. collection of plans plus I have a personal collection of almost ½ million plans which I can scale to any size.

I was delighted to be asked to do plans for SAM 35 members and welcome you all to my plans service which I run with the help of everyone who has sent plans to me.

Me with a few of my models over the years.
